TESTIMONIALS

What Clients Are Saying About Allan's Keynotes, Workshops & Programs

"Mr. Karl's story opens the mind, stirs the body and excites the soul. Within the first 60 seconds, the audience is enraptured in a well-honed presentation, perfectly timed with multimedia for maximum impact. More than your standard inspirational speaker, WorldRider is a thrilling journey -- a gift to the listener with intrigue in which the imagination can soar. And in this society that relishes instant communication, what's better than a break from the norm to take a journey into a world that is very much human, present and real —yet provides immediate gratification?"

Gary Penn, VP E-Commerce
Quicksilver

"The WorldRider story represents a unique glimpse into aspects of the human spirit that are often forgotten (or at least neglected) in our fast-paced society. Throughout his tale of ordinary people in extraordinary circumstances, Allan Karl weaves together themes of passion, risk, trust and endurance, all in pursuit of a common human need: connection. Allan's approach to storytelling – which is timed perfectly to compelling video, photos and animations – is one that inspires the audience to challenge the status quo and the common perceptions of ambition, security and belief. WorldRider is an experience that poses big questions...and delivers answers that strengthen the character of those who choose to listen and expand their horizons."

Tom Adamski, Interplay Conference
LEVEL Studios

Allan inspires and motivates on all counts with a wonderfully delivered presentation. I highly recommend him to anyone looking to inspire, motivate or entertain any audience."

Gary Orr
BMW of North America

"I've seen Allan speak on two occasions. Once at BMW and the other at the Apple Inc. headquarters. Both times I came away with great inspirations and a renewed perspective on the world. Allan has a real gift for delivering messages of hope and quest. His adventures on roads less traveled offer a unique vision."

Mark Dubresson
Apple Computer

"Allan was amazing...he told us to be curious and that there's never an end to the road. You're going to love him! He took our whole sales team on a journey...and rallied them. Showed them how to have a real passion for life. He tied his keynote beautifully with the senior living business. We were honored to have him speak."

Lisa Wilks, Director of Sales & Marketing
Sunrise Senior Living Centers
